Sportsbook terms and conditions

1. The outcome of a market is settled once this is determined.

In the event of a long or short term outright market being decided through an official announcement, the company reserves the right to void any bets placed after the publication of the outcome.

In the event of a match not being completed (due to weather conditions, insufficient amount of players etc) and eventually decided by the referee and/or an official announcement, the company reserves the right to settle accordingly any bets placed following the announcement by the official source.

In case the announcement is done in more than 48 hours after the end of the match and any undecided bets have been already handled as undecided, thus voided, settlement will stand.

Any player specials markets are excluded from the above rule.

If a market is not determined earlier in the game, the company settles the result of the game once the normal duration (regular time) of the match is concluded, unless stated otherwise on the market description on the website.

Example 1: Match winner 1X2 market of an event is determined after the end of the normal duration (regular time) of the event. Football (Soccer) 1x2 Match Winner is determined after the 90 min, including any extra minutes called by the referee of the match as “normal duration”.

In case an event is driven to Overtime (when regular time does not decide the winner) all markets that are subject to “include overtime” are paid after the completion of the Overtime. Any penalty kicks (or other decider) may follow is not taken in consideration, unless clearly stated in the market.

Events not started on time for any reason or even postponed may be kept open and all bets remain valid if those kick off (start) within the next 48 hours from the official start time. In any other case, the company reserves, at its own discretion, the right to void all bets of such postponed events and refund the stakes to the customers.

Events abandoned after its starting time and get continued from the organizer within 48 hours from the official start time, the company reserves the right to keep all bets valid and settle according to this result.

Events abandoned after its starting time and not getting continued from the organizer within 48 hours, the company will settle all determined markets decided in the pitch and void the rest by refunding stakes to customers. However in cases like that, the company reserves, at its own discretion, the right to void all bets of such abandoned events and refund the stakes to the customers.

On above general rule there are exceptions as in:

Tennis games will be kept open with all bets valid until the officials or organizing body declares a winner. In such cases, the 48 hours rule is not valid. However and in case of a player retirement, all markets determined in the pitch are settled accordingly and all the rest declared void and null. For avoidance of doubt if a tennis player retired before the last point concluded, the match winner market is void, but all markets related to specific sets or games that are determined, are settled accordingly.

In case the following US Sports games such as MLB(or other Baseball leagues), NHL and NBA (NFL and MLS is not included in this rule) don't kick off or are abandoned after kickoff and not resumed within the same day in the local time zone from the announced kick off time, all non-decided bets are void.

(e.g. if a football match is abandoned in the second half, the markets of the first half will be settled normally).

(e.g. in the example above, the markets of the second half have not been decided) will be void and stakes will be refunded to customers).

In case of abandoned or postponed NFL(or other American Football) events, all markets are considered void unless the match continues in the same NFL(or other American Football) weekly schedule (Thursday - Wednesday local stadium time).

MLB(or other Baseball leagues): the Moneyline (Winner Market) is considered as decided if the officials of the league consider the game as finished and if:

1. at least 5 innings are completed

OR

2. 4.5 innings are completed and the home team (or the team batting second) is ahead. In all other cases, bets on Money Line, are settled as void.

For avoidance of doubt, bets on all other markets (e.g Totals, Spread etc) will stand, unless already decided, if:

1. at least 9 innings are completed

OR

2. 8.5 innings are completed and the home team (or the team batting second) is ahead.

In all other cases, bets are settled as void. In the event of a Mercy Rule being called, all bets will stand on the score at the time.

MLB(or other Baseball leagues), all Pitcher Lines (PL Markets for Moneyline, Spread and Totals) are void in case of change in the listed starting pitcher. Bets placed on Pitcher line markets will include the indication (PL) inside the betslip and the bet history pages. In case the (PL) indicator is not visible inside the betslip , the bet is placed on the Action Line and it will be settled accordingly. Action lines are settled based on the outcome of the event regardless of any pitcher changes. Any new offered pitcher lines will follow the above rules. Action lines are following the general rules with the exceptions regarding MLB(or other Baseball leagues), as above.

In Baseball and in case of a 7-inning game, bets on all markets will stand, unless already decided, if :

1. at least 7 innings are completed

OR

2. 6.5 innings are completed and the home team(or the team batting second) is ahead.

Exception is the Moneyline (Match Winner) that is considered as decided if:

1. at least 5 innings are completed

OR

2. 4.5 innings are completed and the home team (or the team batting second) is ahead.

In all other cases, bets on Money Line are settled as void.

1.2 The company reserves the right not to accept all or part of a bet without providing a reason to the customer. If a bet is not accepted, customer's stakes are refunded

1.3 Before an event starts, the company reserves, at its own discretion, the right to void or cancel part or whole of a bet even after its acceptance without providing any reason to the customer.

After the event start, the company reserves, at its own discretion, the right to void or cancel part or whole of a bet, even after its acceptance and even after its settlement, if there is a valid reason for this, such as

- mistake in the wording (palpable error) of the event or the odds, or starting time.
- the customer attempt to bypass company limits (potential payout) and risk management by placing multiple identical or similar bets or opening multiple accounts

- the customer is getting advantage of any public announcement or secret information he has access to that determines the outcome of the bet.
- the customer combined related bets.
- the customer is actively participating in the event, such as Players, Referees, Managers or has direct or indirect relationships with events participants.
- the company suffers a technical error offering wrong odds or events.
- any other valid reason duly communicated to the customer upon request.

1.4 The maximum winnings per bet slip are (..... EUR).

- 1.9 Any decision taken by the Video Assistant Referee (VAR) which conflicts with the original decision sanctioned by the officials on the pitch (including non-decisions like allowing play to continue before reviewing the video), thus altering the understood state of the match at the time of bet placement, will result in all bets placed in the timeframe between the actual occurrence of the original incident and the referee's final decision on the incident being deemed as void, unless the odds offered on the specific bet offer are unaffected by the use of VAR or have already been accounted for in the odds offered at the time of bet acceptance. Settlement on all other unrelated bet-offers, including those determined by any play between the time of the original incident and the decision following the VAR review, which are not influenced/alterd by the VAR decision will stand.

For resulting purposes VAR reviews are to be considered as having happened at the time of the original incident for which the VAR would be eventually used even if play has not been immediately interrupted. The company reserves the right to reverse any previously settled offers where the settlement becomes inaccurate following the final referee decision, providing said decision is taken and communicated before the conclusion of the match and/or timeframe listed.

- 1.10 For user-experience purposes thus a better visual result, our company is applying two decimal digits truncation on the odds visible on screen. TEASER BETS

In sports betting, a teaser bet is a type of parlay bet. In a teaser bet, the bettor is allowed to change the point spread for a game, making the bet easier to win. In exchange, the bettor realizes a lower return on the bets in the event of a win. If one selection loses, the teaser is considered as lost. If one selection is voided and the rest is won, the teaser is considered as void.

DEAD HEAT RULE

When there is no obvious winner or there is a draw between two, three or more competitors, the "Dead Heat" rule will apply. This means that the odds will be divided by the number of participants tied in that position.

For example: Draw in Horse Racing, or draw in the market to top scorer in a championship.

Two players are tied for the number of goals in a championship. Player 1 paid 3.00 and Player 2 paid 1.5 The odds will be divided by 2 and the bet will be paid normally.

Player 1 will be paid with odds of $3.00 / 2 = 1.5$.

Player 2 will be paid with odds of $1.5 / 2 = 0.75$.

RULES FOR CLASSIFICATION MARKETS

To qualify: this market consists of predicting which of the teams will go to the next round of the tournament. For this option, the results given in both the first leg and the second leg will be taken, including extra time and kicks from the penalty spot, if given.

Victory method

In this market we must predict how the team that qualifies to the next round will do it.

For example, if my selection is:

Home Overtime (Juventus Turin Overtime): I am indicating that the definition of that market will be given during overtime.

Home team regular time (Juventus Turin Regular time): I am predicting that this market will be defined during regular time + additional minutes of the game.

Visitor Penalties (Ajax penalties): I am predicting that the market will be defined on the penalty shootout.

BET BUILDER

The Bet Builder feature gives the player the opportunity to combine selections from the same event into one betslip. If one selection that participates in a Bet Builder betslip is void/push, then the whole betslip is void/push as well, REGARDLESS of the outcome of the other selections that participate in the Bet Builder.

For example, in the match LA Lakers vs Toronto Raptors, we create a Bet Builder betslip with LA Lakers to win, Over 220,5 points in the match and Player X - Over 29,5 points. In case Player X does not participate in the match, the selection for his points (over 29,5) is settled as void. Therefore, the whole betslip is settled as void as the selection participates in a Bet Builder.

TENNIS

General Rules.

Tennis games will be kept open with all bets valid until the officials or organizing body declares a winner. In such cases, the 48 hours rule is not valid.

However, and in case of a player retirement, all markets determined in the pitch are settled accordingly and all the rest declared void and null. For avoidance of doubt if a tennis player retired before the last point concluded, the match winner market is void, but all markets related to specific sets or games that are determined, are settled accordingly.

Markets that have been mathematically reached will be settled after the deciding point has been confirmed.

Example: at the set score of 3-3, the minimum number of games for the set to be completed is 9 (either 6-3 or 3-6).

This means that total lines of 6.5, 7.5 and 8.5 can already be settled as win for Over. Integer lines where neither selection wins will be voided.

Tie Break: It is a game that is played when two competitors reach a tie 6 - 6 in any Set, and consists of one of the two players reaching 7 points with a difference of 2 in relation to their rival, it is important to mention that for the over/under tennis markets, the tiebreak will count as a single game regardless of the length of the event.

Super Tie Break: It has similar specifications to the Tie Break, with the difference being that one of the two players reaches 10 points with a difference of 2 in relation to its rival, it is important to mention that for over/under tennis markets, the Super Tie Break or Match Tie Break will count as a single game regardless of the length of the event.

A Tie Break or Super Tie Break will be valid as long as the decision is announced before the start of the event.

Point winner markets: Point winner markets are settled after said point is confirmed. If the point will not be played, the market will be voided.

How Major Tournaments Handle Tiebreak Rounds

Australian Open. In the Australian Open, singles players use the first to 10 tiebreaker (super tie break) when the game score in the final set of a singles match reaches 6-6. For mixed doubles at the Australian Open and US Open, players will play a tiebreak in lieu of a final set.

French Open. The French Open is the only Grand Slam that does not use tiebreakers to determine a winner of the final set in singles matches.

US Open. For the US Open, players use a 12-point tiebreaker in the event of a 6-6 tie.

Wimbledon. At Wimbledon, if players tie at 12 games of the final set, they must play a tiebreaker round.

CRICKET

All bets will be settled according to the official result.

Cricket matches consist of either one or two innings, 1st innings markets on a match played with a single innings (e.g T10, T20 events) are considered as full time markets for resulting purposes. On a match with two innings (e.g. Test Series) 1st innings and 2nd innings markets will correspond to each inning separately for resulting purposes, cumulative markets for full time won't include any innings in the description of the markets.

If a match is cancelled before any play has taken place, then all markets are considered void unless the match is replayed within 48 hours of its initial starting time. In the event of an over not being completed, all undecided markets on this specific over are considered void unless the innings has reached its natural conclusion e.g. declaration, team all out, etc.

Some tournaments may last up to 5 days (e.g. Test Series), Decided markets will be resulted instantly, any markets that require an event to be fully completed (e.g.. Winner, Handicap) will be resulted after the events are officially announced as completed.

In some events the Duckworth–Lewis method may be applied by the officials in order to determine the winner. The Duckworth–Lewis–Stern method (DL) is a mathematical formulation designed to calculate the target score for the team batting second in a match interrupted by weather or other circumstances.

If markets remain open with an incorrect score which has a significant impact on the prices, we reserve the right to void betting.

In the event of a match being reduced in overs for either one or both teams (e.g. from 50 to 35 overs due to bad weather conditions) we reserve the right to void any undecided bets placed on the initial format and adjust odds and markets/lines accordingly in order to be offered again based on the new format. Cricket Markets

E-SPORTS

General Rules

All esports markets are based on in-game score events or results at the end of a scheduled match/map. All settlements will occur using the official score and results which are declared on the official video stream or the in-game stream of the relevant matches.

All match start dates and times displayed for Esports matches are for indication purposes only and are not guaranteed to be correct. Bets will stand if a match is offered with an incorrect date and/or time.

If a match is paused/postponed and not rescheduled to a later time within 48 hours of the actual scheduled start time, then all bets on that match will be voided.

If the name of a player/team/tournament is misspelled, all bets will still stand unless it's obvious that the misspelled name is the same as a different entity.

If a team name is changed due to a team leaving the organization, joining another organization, or due to an official change of team name, all bets will stand.

If the organizer of the event allows for stand-ins and there is an official result, all bets will be resulted as normal.

In the case where there is an overruling of a match result by the organiser due to unforeseen circumstances - such as cheating - all bets on that match will be voided.

If a match has been declared as a walkover win by the tournament organizer, all bets will be void.

If one team retires during a match, only wagers on the completed individual maps will be resulted. Match market, match side markets and all other undecided map markets will be voided.

All markets consider overtime, unless stated otherwise in the market name.

If the match format is changed or differs from the one which is being offered, we reserve the right to void all bets.

If the fixture is listed incorrectly, we reserve the right to void all bets.

If a match is played before the scheduled start date / time, all bets placed after the actual start of the match will be refunded. All bets placed before the actual start of the match will stand.

If a match or map is replayed due to an organizer or technical issues, all undecided markets will be void, replayed matches or maps will be handled separately as new match.

If the final gameplay length/duration is the same as a particular threshold, it is resolved as OVER.

Where an event involves the same two players or teams playing multiple games or maps, for example “best of 3”, and one or more games or maps are not played because the result of the event has already been determined, bets on unplayed games or maps are void and stakes refunded.

Dates and start times are shown for information purposes only and may not be accurate.

Where an event is cancelled, postponed or interrupted and not completed within 48 hours of the originally scheduled start time, bets on that event are void and stakes refunded. However, games or maps that are completed within 48 hours are settled normally even if additional games or maps that were supposed to be part of the same matchup are cancelled or further postponed.

Bets are settled based on the official broadcast of the game by the publisher or event organiser. Where the broadcast shows a counter of rounds won, kills, dragons, towers etc., this will generally be used to settle relevant bets. If the result of a bet is unclear from the broadcast, or if there is no broadcast, then the statistics API for the game will be used where available.

In the case of indexed or numbered markets (such as the winner of a specific round in Counter Strike: GO, or the team to score a particular numbered kill in League of Legends or DOTA2), the index determines the objective that counts. Words such as “next” in the market name are not guaranteed to be correct, as broadcasts may be delayed and we may not always advance the index precisely when an objective is scored or a round completed. All bets are therefore settled on the particular numbered round or objective specified, regardless of any other wording in the market name or its timing in relation to when the bet was placed.

If the scheduled number of rounds or maps is changed, or if markets are erroneously offered based on a different number of rounds or maps from the actually scheduled number, then bets on the winning margin (including handicap), total rounds / maps, correct scores etc. are void and stakes refunded.

Map winner and matchup winner bets stand. If any map is not played or is awarded to one player or team by walkover or default without play having commenced, all bets on that map and on the matchup as a whole are void and stakes refunded. Bets relating only to maps that are played stand. A map is deemed to have started as soon as the game clock starts or either team or player takes a game action relating to that map, including picks, bans and weapon purchases.

Counter Strike:GO Rules

Most map bets are based on the scheduled number of rounds (usually best of 30) excluding extra rounds played in the event of a draw. If, however, a map winner market is offered without a “draw” selection then this is settled in favor of the overall winner of the map including extra time if played.

Title-specific vocabulary:

- T / CT (Terrorists / Counter-terrorists): title specific name of Dark / Light team
- Round: Team wins Rounds to win the Map. Round is won when 1) one team eliminates the other 2) by Terrorists when they successfully detonate the bomb 3) by Counter-terrorists when the bomb does not detonate in 120 seconds from the start of the Round. First team to score 16 Rounds wins the Map.
- Overtime: In case of Map draw score (15:15), first overtime is being played in Bo6 format. In case of another draw (18:18), next overtime with same rules will be played. This process repeats until one team wins overtime. Overtime rules can be tournament-specific.
- Pistol round: 1. and 16. round on a particular Map.

Dota2 Rules

For bets involving towers, all destroyed towers count as having been destroyed by the opposing team even if the last hit was from a minion.

For bets involving barracks, all destroyed barracks count as having been destroyed by the opposing team even if the last hit was from a minion. The ranged and melee barracks in each pair count as separate barracks, so that each team has a total of six barracks.

For bets involving kills (other than “First Blood”), the official broadcast or game API if available is definitive in determining whether the death of a Champion counts as a kill. For example, where a Champion is killed by tower or minion damage without the involvement of an enemy Champion this may not be registered as a kill on the broadcast, in which case it does not count as a kill for bet settlement purposes.

For bets on First Blood, the broadcast or official API score must register the kill as First Blood. Where, for example, a kill is denied by a team-mate, it may not be counted as First Blood (regardless of whether it is registered as a kill on the broadcast kill counter), in which case it will not count as First Blood for bet settlement purposes. For the avoidance of doubt, all kill markets other than “First Blood” are settled based on the kill counter, but a kill that is registered on the kill counter will count as First Blood only if it is announced as such.

For bets on Roshans, the team that scores the last hit on Roshan as determined by the broadcast or game API if available is deemed to have slain Roshan, regardless of the player who picks up the aegis of the immortal.

For bets involving the next team to score a particular objective or the team to score the most of a particular objective, where a “neither” or “draw” option is offered and is the winning outcome, bets on either team are losers. Where no such selection is offered and neither team is a winner, all bets on the market are void and stakes refunded.

Where one team surrenders, bets stand and are settled as follows. For bets involving the map winner, the winning team is the team that did not surrender. Bets involving Roshans, barracks and kills are settled based on the situation at the time the surrender takes place. Bets involving towers are settled as if the winning team had destroyed the minimum number of additional towers theoretically required to win the game normally from the position when the surrender occurred. For example, if the winning team has destroyed all tier 1 towers and one tier 2 tower, then it will be deemed to have destroyed three further towers (seven in total), since it would have needed to destroy at least one tier 3 tower and the two ancient towers to have won the game normally from that position.

Title-specific definitions:

- Ancient: The primary objective of the Map. The first team to destroy opposing team’s Ancient wins the Map.
- GG: This allows the relevant team to surrender the Map when typed into the all chat.
- Dire / Radiant: The title specific name of Dark / Light opposing teams
- Kill: The Light/Dark team’s score, which represents the total number of times members of the opposing team were killed.
- Aegis: An item which appears after the game objective Roshan is killed. It can be picked up by a player.
- Tower: A team specific game objective, which can be destroyed by opposite team.
- Barracks: A team specific game objective, which can be destroyed by opposite team.

League of Legends (LoL) Rules

For bets involving towers, all destroyed towers count as having been destroyed by the opposing team even if the last hit was from a minion.

For bets involving inhibitors, all destroyed inhibitors count as having been destroyed by the opposing team even if the last hit was from a minion. For bets involving the number of inhibitors destroyed, each of the six inhibitors counts only once, even if it is destroyed, respawns and is destroyed again. For bets involving the next inhibitor destroyed, each destruction of an inhibitor counts separately, even where it has respawned and is being destroyed for a second or subsequent time.

For bets involving kills (including “First Blood”, which in League of Legends is synonymous with the first kill on the map), the official broadcast or game API if available is definitive in determining whether the death of a Champion counts as a kill. For example, where a Champion is killed by tower or minion damage without the involvement of an enemy Champion this may not be registered as a kill on the broadcast, in which case it does not count as a kill for bet settlement purposes.

For bets involving the next team to score a particular objective or the team to score the most of a particular objective, where a “neither” or “draw” option is offered and is the winning outcome, bets on either team are losers. Where no such selection is offered and neither team is a winner, all bets on the market are void and stakes refunded.

Where one team surrenders, bets stand and are settled as follows. For bets involving the map winner, the winning team is the team that did not surrender. Bets involving dragons, barons and kills are settled based on the situation at the time the surrender takes place. Bets involving towers and inhibitors are settled as if the winning team had destroyed the minimum number of additional towers and / or inhibitors theoretically required to win the game normally from the position when the surrender occurred. For example, if any inhibitor of the losing team is down at the time of surrender then no additional inhibitor is deemed to have been destroyed. If no inhibitor of the losing team is down then the winning team is deemed to have destroyed one additional inhibitor, with priority given to an inhibitor that has already been destroyed if such an inhibitor exists and has respawned. If the winning team has destroyed all tier 1 towers and one tier 2 tower, then it will be deemed to have destroyed three further towers (seven in total), since it would have needed to destroy at least one tier 3 tower and the two nexus towers to have won the game normally from that position.

Title-specific vocabulary:

- Nexus: the primary objective of the Map. The first team to destroy opposing team’s Nexus wins the Map.
- Kill: The Blue/Red team’s score, which represents the total number of times members of the opposing team were killed.
- Turret: a team specific game objective, which can be destroyed by opposite team.
- Inhibitor: a team specific game objective, which can be destroyed by opposite team.

- Dragon: a game objective, can be killed by players.
- Baron: a game objective, can be killed by players.
